

AT THE THEATERS THIS WEEK

"Good Morning, Judge."
 "Good Morning, Judge," which proved to be one of the big hits of the last theatrical year in New York, playing the greater part of the season and with the advent of hot weather at the Shubert Theater, will be the opening attraction at the Strand tomorrow and Tuesday nights. Shep Camp, who created the role of the jocund, yet hypocritical, magistrate when the musical comedy was reproduced from the London triumph. The play, will be seen in the famous role, and which, in turn, brought celebrity to him. Gene Layman, who shared honors with Shep Camp in making hundreds of thousands laugh, will be seen in his familiar role of the day after Judge Meekles inadvertently sentences his wife and family to jail.

The production is elaborate and the celebrated beauty brigade that put the sin in dinner in the cabaret scene is retained.

Perhaps no musical comedy on the stage today enjoys so unusual a record as "Good Morning, Judge." Written as a farce by the late Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, thirty-four years ago, it brought him fame and fortune over night as "The Magistrate." It was transported to this country in the same year and has been played continuously all over the world ever since.

"My Lady Friends."
 "My Lady Friends," which has been a success since its first production, is a musical comedy in which a man with plenty of money wishes to have a good time with it, and is unable to make his wife live up to the income, and in absolute pure thought takes several young ladies under his protection and gives them every luxury that they wish, all this being done without his wife's knowledge. Is he doing wrong?

In the eyes of the world he may not be conventional as he should be, but after he has done all this and proven to the world that he has no selfish motive in doing it, then he should be praised, that is the question that arises in "My Lady Friends," the farce comedy success which H. H. Frazer will offer, with Carlie Blackwell playing the rich young business man, at the Strand Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Sunday matinee.

The play is the joint work of Frank Mandel and Emil Nytra and it is claimed that they have written one of the most interesting and, at the same time, profitable plays that has been produced on the stage for many years.

At B. F. Keith's Lyric.
 Few vaudeville features are more in demand in the larger cities of the country than Pietro, the world's greatest piano-accompanied, who will have a place on the new bill at the Lyric tomorrow and for the first half of the week. What Paderewski is to the piano, Pietro is to the violin. Hans Kronold, Pietro is to the piano-accompanied, Martha Hamilton and her company in "My Lady Friends" promises an act brimming with merriment. It is a comedy skillful in fast and funny action and laughter-provoking dialogue. Johnny Carbery and Pauline Lormer will present a terrific summer in which they exhibit their graceful, agile and artistic execution. Songs, dances and farcical fun make up the round of entertainment to be provided by Boyd and King. They specialize in popular songs. Closing the whirl of comedy and novelties will come the miniature musical comedy, "My Dream Girl," a handsomely staged farce, with singing and dancing interruptions presented by a company of seven clever entertainers, each of whom is a specialty artist.

Musical comedy will have another whirl on the weekend bill which comes Thursday. "The Turn-of-the-Century" is the title of the comedy, comedy and song, which is a musical travesty, with seven principal parts in the acting cast. Going it alone on the stage is Jim Doherty, the golden-voiced comedian. Doherty has an irresistibly funny monologue and a budget of song-comedians. There are Perez and Marguerite, an imported team of juggling adepts. With each of the above vaudeville shows there will be the usual added motion picture entertainment. The pictures include the latest release of the Pathe News Service.

DIXON'S "ROBERT E. LEE"
 PLAY OPENS IN ATLANTA

First Dramatization of Southern Chieftain's Life Has Its Premiere on September 20.

The most important event of the coming theatrical season is the announcement that Thomas Dixon will send on tour to the principal cities of the South, preliminary to a Broadway engagement, his latest play, "Robert E. Lee." The opening performance will be given at the Lyric.

Announcement

GRANDMA USED SAGE
 TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a reversal of the process, turning falling, streaked or gray hair to its natural color. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of E. W. Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, and ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

White, wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with E. W. Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. country. It presents in tenuous dramatic form the true history of the most momentous period of American history. In the South it should prove more popular than the author's North-famous play, "The Birth of a Nation," and again held all civil-ized countries under its magic spell.

"Robert E. Lee" is the second biographical play from the brilliant pen of Mr. Dixon. His Lincoln play, "A Man of the People," has played all summer in Chicago to record.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSES AT HARRISONBURG SEPT. 3

State Normal Regular Term Starts September 22—New Additions to Faculty Announced.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
 HARRISONBURG, VA., August 28.—The second term of the 1920 summer session of the State Normal School here will come to an end with examinations on Thursday and Friday. The coming winter session will begin September 22, after an interval of nineteen days. Thus the plant at Harrisonburg works the year around, with the exception of one week in June about two weeks in September. The State may be said to realize on its investment when school buildings are in such constant use.

Two new instructors in the home economics department have been announced by President S. P. Duke. In place of Mrs. Carrie B. McMichael there will be Miss Myrtle Wilson, who comes from Teachers' College, New York. In the place of Miss Sarah M. Wilson, who recently resigned to accept a very flattering offer in the Pennsylvania State College, President Duke announces the appointment of Miss Lotta Day, a graduate of Indiana State Normal School, and a Ph. B. and M. S. of the University of Chicago. Miss Day has taught in the rural schools of Indiana, in the city training school of Evansville, and for several years as an instructor in the Montana State Teachers' College.

 The mother's heart sank as she entered the abode of her newly married daughter, and found the young wife in tears—floods of them. "What is the matter, my darling?" she demanded anxiously. "Oh, Edward is a brute—a brute!" wailed the girl—for she was only that. "Why do you say so?" asked her mother. Her temper rising at the thought of the unhappiness, which this man had, according to appearances, brought upon her daughter. "He—he came home late

BACK FROM THE VACATION

Had a fine time, didn't you? But, honestly now, isn't it good to be home again? Summer resorts are all right. Couple of weeks helps us a lot, but nothing wrong with old Richmond. No, Sirree! Richmond is all to the good. You never realize what a fine place it is until you get away and make comparisons.

Won't that big, roomy Queen Anne bed, with its comfortable box spring and mattress, make you feel good tonight? You'll sleep better than you have for any night since you went away, and again you'll think what a fine place home is after all.

Glad you made the acquaintance of Sydnor & Hundley, are you not? Other things in the house cause you to think of us gratefully, too. The big davenport in the living room, for instance, or the couch hammock on the veranda.

Yes, and we are glad we made your acquaintance also. We have been mighty nice to us, and have sent in a lot of your friends. Others will follow, because it is becoming more and more widely known every day that Richmond has a truly worth while furniture store, and that the name is
